
Every cell contributes; hexagons combine density, not point selection. W0 normals use the nearest centroid. All panels.